SUPPLEMENTAL DETAILED ACTION

1. This restriction requirement is supplemental to the one of paper 5 and replaces the previous requirement.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-15, drawn to a method of coating a surgical needle with a material of viscosity greater than 10,000 cp and a siliconization material, and effectively polymerizing both, classified in class 427, subclass 372.2.
 - II. Claims 16-21, drawn to a method of coating a surgical needle with two non-covalently linked materials where one material crosslinks and interlocks the other in an interpenetrating network, classified in class 427, subclass 2.28.
 - III. Claims 22-29, drawn to a surgical needle, classified in class 606, subclass 222.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

3. Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and have different modes of operation, functions, and effects. In Applicant's disclosure, inventions I and II are disclosed as separate and distinct embodiment's of Applicant's invention. Additionally, Invention I requires the use of a siloxane material with a suitable viscosity followed by effective polymerization of said material with a siliconization material. Whereas, Invention II does not require these limitations, but does requires that the two materials not be covalently linked and that the second material crosslink, locking the siloxane therein in an interpenetrating network. These inventions thus have different effects, functions, and modes of operation.

4. Inventions I and II related to III are related as processes of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the surgical needle can be made from a different process such as dipping into a bath of coating material and then sharpening to a point.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1762

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for each of the Groups is not required for other Groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

8. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

The Applicant has claimed different compositions of the coating. Applicant should elect a coating comprising A) aminoalkyl siloxane or B) polydimethylsiloxane. Claims 24 and 28 appear to characterize A) and claims 25 and 29 appear to characterize B).

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 23, 24, 26, and 27 appear generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

9. A telephone call was made to Mark Farber on 5/7/10/2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

10. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
